

92.6% of individuals feel safe when walking alone at night in their residential areas

Household Socio-Economic Survey 2023 is a survey that encompasses several indicators serving the socio-economic and household domains. One of the indicators to be enriched by this survey is Indicator 16, which measures the percentage of population feeling safe when walking alone around their residential areas. The survey revealed that 92.6% of individuals (aged 15 and above) feel safe when walking alone at night in their residential areas.

91.3% of Saudi individuals (aged 15 and above) feel safe walking alone at night in their residential areas

The results of the Household Socio-Economic Survey 2023 revealed that 80.6% of Saudi individuals (aged 15 and above) feel highly safe, while 10.7% feel somewhat safe when walking alone at night in their residential areas.

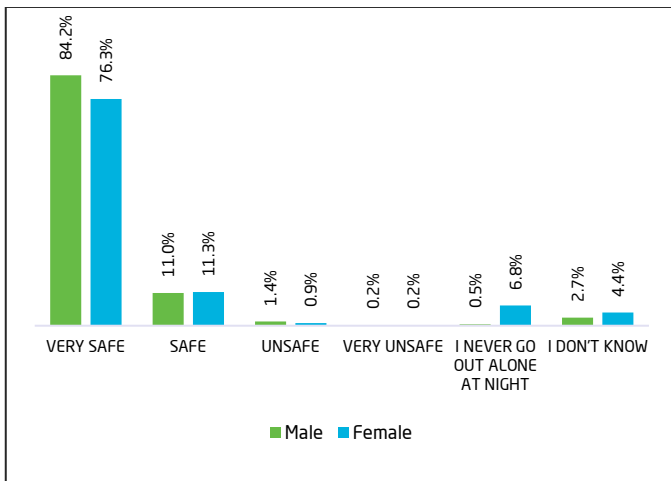

Figure1. Percentage distribution of safety for individuals (15+) by nationality

6.8% of females (aged 15 and above) do not walk alone

The results of the Household Socio-Economic Survey 2023 indicate that 6.8% of females (aged 15 and above) do not walk alone at night around their residential areas.

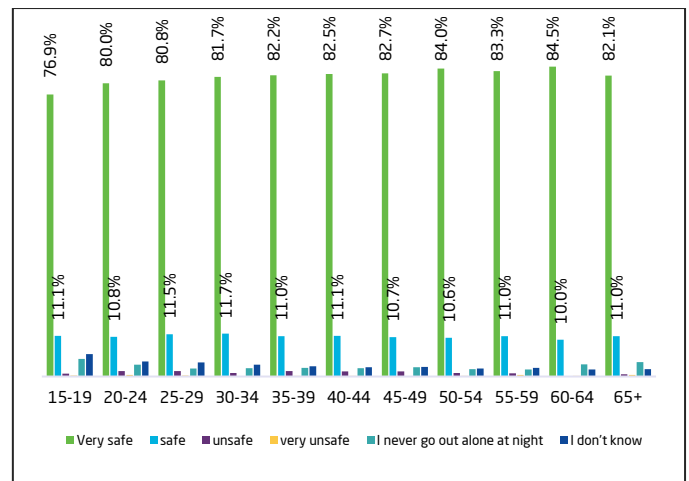

Figure2. Percentage distribution of safety for individuals (15+) by sex

94.5% of the elderly in the age group of 60-64 feel safe when walking alone at night in their residential areas

The results of the Household Socio-Economic Survey 2023 also indicate that 84.5% of the elderly in the age group of (60-64) feel highly safe, while 10.0% feel somewhat safe when walking alone at night in their residential areas.

Figure3. Percentage distribution of safety for individuals (15+) by age group

Source: Tables.

Methodology and Quality

The General Authority for Statistics conducts all its statistical operations following a consistent approach tailored to the specific nature of each statistical product. This methodology is based on the Statistical Business Process Procedures Manual, which conforms to the established procedures of international statistical organizations. Among these products is the Household Socio-Economic Survey. For a comprehensive understanding of the methodology and access to all publication tables, please click on the following link: Methodology and Quality